Press Release

Colorado Palliative & Hospice Care Is Expanding in Colorado

Colorado Palliative & Hospice Care executives have purchased two hospices in Denver and Colorado Springs, CO expanding their Midwest based operations from Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri. They feel their approach will help meet the needs of the growing senior population in this area.

CEO Phillip Hill says “we are thrilled to have the opportunity to have Jennifer join our new Colorado opportunities. Jennifer has led by example throughout her time with us in Oklahoma. She lives by the rule, service before self and always treat others as you wish to be treated”.

We would like to welcome Jennifer Forrester to the Colorado Palliative & Hospice Care team as the Executive Director. Jennifer has successfully served as the Community Relations Director for a related company Oklahoma Palliative & Hospice Care since July 2013, helping that organization grow to one of the top providers in the Oklahoma City market.

Jennifer has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Organizational Leadership from Southern Nazarene University in Oklahoma. She has history as a respiratory therapist with an extensive history in patient care in the hospital, clinic and private setting in addition to her over 15 years in leadership, management and marketing. She was involved in various community and networking organizations where she served in several board positions.
